How to use this download:

This packet is designed to help young students with fine motor and handwriting skills for upper and lowercase letters. You can use the Alphabet Journal Cover provided if you would like to turn it into a booklet or just print out single sheets. These worksheets make great center activities. Each worksheet has students do four steps. First they trace the letter using the dotted line with a pencil. Then, they can color the whole letter. (I encourage them not to color the circles if they use crayons because the paint daubers don't work as well.) Next, students will use a paint dauber to dab the circles. Last, they will use playdough (rolled into a snake) to trace over the top of the letter. Each sheet has practice handwriting with the letter at the bottom of the sheet. There are two tracing worksheets for practice provided, and one worksheet with iWatches to place on students at then end of the letter unit to build a home connection with your families.
